

Capture of Tampico.—Public opinion is decidedly in favor of calling into immediate service that part of the 50,000 volunteers not yet mustered, with the view of capturing Tampico and opening a direct intercourse by water with San Luis de Potosi, at which place General Taylor may be expected in November. Several regiments from this State are yet to be called into service. As usual, however, our naval officers find a difficulty presenting itself in an expedition to Tampico, in the bars which prevent the entrance of large vessels. One would suppose that a mode of surmounting this difficulty might be found in the employment of large transports, to convey the troops from this port, and small vessels in which they can disembark. Ships on the north of the bar are frequently driven to sea, but when in smooth water to the southward, the embarkation is not difficult. Tampico is not regularly fortified, but has some works which have been hastily thrown up, and which must be first taken or destroyed by gun-boats. A landing, however, could be made a few miles north of the town, which cannot stand a siege. An unimpeded navigation of the Tampico river for 120 miles, is the great object which renders the capture of that commercial town necessary, as supplies by that river can be thrown into San Luis direct. The road to Mexico branches off to the southwest passing direct to the capital, which is as near as from Vera Cruz. The low marshy position of Tampico makes the place unhealthy, the rotonto prevailing during the fall months. But an entrance once secured in Tampico river, would soon place the division in a healthy region of country. Peace is no longer thought of by the Mexicans. And the people of this country, without distinction of party, satisfied that we have made great efforts and sacrifices, are now in favor, not only of prosecuting the war with vigor, but making Mexico pay the expenses.

Governor Elect.—We regret to learn, says the Charleston Globe of the 10th, that the health of the Governor-elect continues bad and may probably deprive him of the opportunity of visiting portions of the state, previous to the sitting of the Legislature, which we know he was anxious to do.

The following is from the correspondence of the New York Herald:

Order to Gen. TAYLOR, &c.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5, 1846.
We are apprised from a reliable authority, that a special messenger, or message, has been despatched from the war department this morning direct to Gen.

Taylor at Monterey, instructing him, if he has anticipated the order, to take possession of the city with all proper speed, and to fortify it; and, leaving a sufficient garrison to hold there, to march forward without delay upon Saltillo, and onward till otherwise ordered. He is to levy upon the country for supplies, but to guard rigidly against any personal indignities upon the inhabitants, and all unauthorized invasions of their private houses are peremptorily interdicted.

A KNOWING CLASS.—There are some men, who, judging from their own opinions of themselves, sit complacently on the very summit of Wisdom. Ask one of these modern Solons what he thinks of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and he will at once tell you it is a QUACK REMEDY. This sweeping assertion he makes without any knowledge whatever of its virtues—or of its being prepared by a regular and a veteran physician, in its universal success in the cure of all sections of the Pulmonary Organs.

There are many who decry all patent medicines merely because it is fashionable to do so. And were a beloved mother or sister of one of these concealed wise ones to be restored from a lingering sickness to entire health, by the use of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry (as many as have been), such persons could scarcely muster oral courage sufficient to allude to it, when others were maliciously denouncing the medicine as worthless.

The genuine Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry is sold at MATTESEN'S

MARRIED.

LIED.

In this village, on the 2^d inst., of consumption, after a long and tedious sickness, Charles F. Curry, only son of Col. John Curry. Aged 22 years.

The subject of this notice was an extraordinary young man. Through his whole life he was remarkable for his evenness of temper, his kind spirit and his sociable and amiable manners. Of such amiable disposition, possessing business facilities and habits of a superior order, and leading a life of exemplary virtue, sustained by the follies or vices of youth, he enjoyed the confidence, while living, of all his acquaintances, and died universally lamented. Few are remembered with more respect, or mourned more generally and sincerely. In justice to the memory of the deceased, it can be affirmed with safety and pleasure, that his moral worth, industry, and strict integrity constituted him one of the most estimable members of society. As in health, so in sickness the same quiet and uncomplaining spirit seemed to prevail—not a murmur was heard from his lips, not one complaint was dropped from his tongue.

While this amiable person, by correct deportment in life has reflected great honor upon the parents who have guided his youth, he has left an example worthy of imitation for all, especially for his young associates, who so numerously assembled to pay the last tribute of respect to departed worth.—Com.
